MOSAIC: MEMOIR

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 216 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Mosaic is a collection of all the episodes of my youth from the early days of 1920 s to 1930 s in Odessa, USSR, that have been retained in the folds of my memory. I ve arranged these episodes in chronological order, one that has settled into a colorful image much like a mosaic. Some of these are snippets of 5 to 10 lines. Others - a couple of pages or more. Several bare witness to significant events: the scenes of famine on Odessa streets during the Collectivization period. Or the bombing of the Confederated Orthodox Cathedral during the Anti-Religion campaign. Other episodes were then only of interest to me personally. But each segment proved necessary to paint a vivid portrayal of a life. We can t remember everything; we retain only separate episodes, tiny fragments of the past. They may be separated considerably by time, whether months or mere minutes. They do not have a unifying plotline. They are suspended in space. This space the writers of memoirs fill up with conjectures that may closely resemble what had been, but which can never be the same. This is similar to adding chlorinated tap water to pure cold crystal-clear spring water. There will be more water, but what kind of water will that be! All this peculiarity of Mosaic distinguished from memoirs of my contemporaries who have written about their childhood in those distance 20 s and 30 s. The episodes written about in Mosaic are what were. I have added nothing and subtracted nothing. I do not tell about it but rather I show them in what may be called pictures made not but...
