Not illustrated. 1845 Excerpt: . enjoy the privilege of furnishing that good brother with a horse, that he may extend his labours among this destitute population? FROM A MISSIONARY IN THE PINES Or NEW JERSEY, - - It docs not seem as if I had done much here, and yet the simple fact, that I have been enabled to do what I have, is no small matter. I hare a great amount of prejudice and indifference to overcome. It is comparatively heathen ground; and as in the establishment of a mission station in heathen lands, much must be done, and yot little fruit for some time be seen, o it is here. My heart has often bled, and hope almost expired, when I think of the deplorable mor.il darkness that prevails in this whole section of country. And yet the Church in in a state of strange apathy in regard to this matter. Money is freely given, and the prayers and sympathies of Christians arc solicited for the heathen beyond the ocean. All this is M it should be. And yet how little interest can be excited for these destitutions at our very doors, covered with almost as dense moral darkness as India, or even Africa. Our little church i- the only regularly organized church from Cape May to Monmouth county, a distance of one hundred miles in length, and an average of thirty in breadth. In that section of country, there are hundreds who have never heard a Gospel...
